Course Proposals for Review – Old Business

4. Curriculum & Instruction 240 – Introduction to Teaching, Schooling, and Education (Wilkerson)
   Type of Proposal: New course
   Action from May 2013: Unanimously deferred a decision on this proposal until further feedback is received from the department. Specifically, the committee discussed concern about the part stating “Introduction to Teaching,” and instead asked if a title like “Social Context of Teaching, School, and Education” might better reflect the goals and objectives of the course.
   Update: Department submitted change to title, “Critical Aspects of Teaching, Schooling, and Education.”

5. Social Work 100 - Making a Difference: Professions that Change the World (Seidenberg)
   Type of Proposal: New course
   Action from May 2013: Unanimously deferred a decision on this proposal until further feedback is received from the department. Requested that a new title be proposed which would more accurately reflect the content detailed in the proposal and syllabus. Specifically, there was concern that using the phrase “Professions that Change the World” may be misleading.
   Additionally, the committee recommended that the proposal further justify how the course and objectives being taught connect to the discipline of Social Work.
   No updates received from department as of 8/30.

   Type of Proposal: New course
   Action from May 2013: Due to a long agenda and because the course is proposed to begin Spring 2014, unanimously decided to table a decision until September 2013 meeting. In the meantime, however, the committee suggested it would be helpful for department to further justify the credit hours for the course including the service learning component, and to further distinguish between the 2 and 3 credit options.
   No updates received from department as of 8/30.
