   Type of Proposal: New Course

   Update: Course title was changed to “Regression Models in Education”. Statistics has indicated they support the creation of this course but they still need to enter this in the online system.

6. Educational Psychology 963 - Design & Analysis of Quasi-Experiments for Causal Inference  (Seidenberg)
   Type of Proposal: New Course

7. English 407 - Creative Writing: Nonfiction Workshop  (Murphy)
   Type of Proposal: New Course
Previous Action: Deferred pending additional information. The committee is concerned with the lack of explicit requirement concerning student/instructor contact hours. While the syllabus refers to individual conferences there is no structured requirement for the number or length of these meetings. For each writing project how much time will be spent in consultation with the instructor?

Update: Added to "additional comments" in response to inquiry about student contact hours. Professor Ron Wallace, who developed Wisconsin's groundbreaking creative writing workshop format in the 1970s, says: "Instructors of creative writing workshop classes meet a minimum of 2--4 hours (and often more) weekly in individual conferences with students for each class taught." Creative writing workshops meet for 115 minutes weekly, plus weekly conferences with students, for a total of about 150 minutes per week. Student preparation for conferences exceeds preparation for class meetings. The sample syllabus clarifies the additional instructional contact from student conferences.

8. Psychiatry 712 - Foundations in Infant, Early Childhood and Family Mental Health: Dev, Screening, Assessment and Diag. (Rahko)
Type of Proposal: New Course
Previous Action: Comment relates to all six proposals: The University Curriculum Committee has reviewed Psychiatry 712-717 and deferred a decision on approving these courses pending receipt of clarifying information about instructional contact hours. The committee was unclear about the amount of time devoted to each course and specific topics. Please update the course proposal forms and syllabi: 1) It isn't clear how much time is being devoted to 712 and 713 in the fall and 715 and 716 in the spring. Times are listed on the syllabus for 712 and 715 but not for 713 and 716. 2) It is possible to interpret the information presented as meaning that the courses meet simultaneously. 3) No class dates and times are listed for 714 and 717. Please provide clear dates and times for each course session. It is recommended that the syllabus be formatted to list each course session with dates and times and associate them with topics being covered. The committee was not clear about the relationship between the learning outcomes listed for 716 and the course description.

Update: We have uploaded revised syllabi for all 6 courses to show clearly the schedule, number of hours and credits. These are all highlighted in yellow. We have also provided an Overview of the Capstone Program with each course as we thought that might be helpful to reviewers in being able to see how the courses contribute to the curriculum of the Capstone and relate to each other. We edited some of the Course descriptions for 713, 714, 716 and 717 in response to Reviewer's questions and requests regarding the relationship of the Learning Objectives to the Course Description. To accurately reflect the clarified schedule, we slightly adjusted the schedule and hours. The Comments section of each course submission describes the changes that were made for each course. We are hopeful that we have provided the detail and clarification requested and we appreciated this opportunity. Please let us know if anything else is needed.

9. Psychiatry 713 - Seminar in Reflective Practices and Mindfulness in Infant, Early Childhood & Family Mental Health I (Green)

Update: Course type changed to lecture and discussion and justification to credit hours changed to reflect this based on the recommendation of the University Curriculum committee rather than the seminar that was previously listed.
